The kit includes a Double or single-piece prefabricated floor beam, an A-frame or Parker pole, the pole bracket, 4 corner fixing kits, 6 platform steel posts, and concrete formwork (with kits). Suitable for new or refurbishment construction, it was the official in-house fit-out, design and build system for the refurbishment of all six of TCW's social housing sites in Dublin. From initial concept development to project completion the TCW team ensured that this system was applied without disruption, and delivered in a timely and cost effective manner. "The TCW team won the competition for the fit-out of our building refurbishment projects across Dublin. Their approach allowed the works to be completed in a fast and efficient manner, "said Seán Dillon, Project Director at the Housing Development Company. The system works by using pre-fabricated steel posts that have been joined together. The posts that were used were of a higher grade than the posts that can be purchased from a hardware store. The kit includes an option to join each pair together using a special connector. The concrete formwork was delivered in four sections. The design of the steel posts allow for several smaller sections to be cut off and used to create a formwork. The formwork was built so that it can be used on site without having to move it. After structural works for all the buildings had been completed, the TCW team installed the post base using the kit posts and the concrete was poured.David Cassan is the founder and Chief Executive of Multibranc.com, a digital marketing

The present invention relates to an image forming device, an image forming method, and a computer-readable medium storing a program. A conventional apparatus that feeds an image forming medium with an image forming unit operates in response to image data inputted from an external device, and forms an image at an image forming position. A conventional apparatus performs image forming processing on an image forming medium by cutting off a portion of the image forming medium that has been used for image forming, and placing the same in an image forming area provided in the apparatus. Therefore, when the image forming medium is limited in size, the image forming medium cannot be fed in the apparatus in some cases. Therefore, in the conventional apparatus, the image forming medium is cut off in the apparatus and sent to an exterior of the apparatus, and the image forming medium that has been cut off is put in an image forming area again. This causes a waste of image forming medium, and thus increases cost. An object of the present invention is to prevent waste of image forming medium that could be fed to the image forming device. Another object of the present invention is to prevent troubles in a process for feeding image forming medium to the image forming device.
