The world is plunged into crisis when ferocious and elemental creatures appear in the form of gigantic centipedes. An outbreak of the "Trasphere Virus" spares only a few and permanently alters the brain and bodies of the survivors. These bizarre mutations affect the emotions and the behaviour of the victims. Incapable of communicating any sentiments with their loved ones or understanding the reason of their own existence, their formerly moral behaviour often takes a turn for the worst. One-year-old Justin Drake is returning home to his family in Richmond, California, the day after his birthday. His parents are out and his 7-year-old sister, Alyx, is waiting for him at the door. As soon as he steps into the house, Alyx shouts out, "Justin! You won! You won!" Justin is stunned, but it doesn't make any sense because he already lost, he's not playing either as mom or dad are out. But his sister seems to be ecstatic. She's hugged him and congratulated him on a winning streak in the game of Diplomacy, which is Alyx's favorite game. Justin didn't play for a while so the idea that his win was due to a prank shouldn't have shocked him as much as it did. But his experiences after the virus strike, while not thoroughly horrific, have come into question what they say about humanity, which he previously considered to be a peaceful and friendly culture. After a bumpy flight home, Justin is greeted by his mom, Betty, and his dad, Johnny. The former loves dressing up her son for his birthday, and it's going to be a big one. She takes him into his bedroom where they unveil a cake with his name on it. Justin's reaction of the cake is, to say the least, put off, but the design of it doesn't seem to be his style. While making his way to the kitchen to find his dad the master chef, he hears his parents arguing in the next room. He opens the door to find them screaming at each other, his dad yelling, "What the fuck do you think you're doing?", and his mom screaming back at him, "You're gonna be the death of me, you cheating son of a bitch!" That may sound like a scene straight from a Hollywood movie, but this is real life. Justin decides to keep quiet as the argument drags on, but it seems that his parents
