Q: Why is my output redirected to the console? The title is obvious, but here is what's happening: When I run the program, it prints out "Program started," and then... it is redirected to the console, which is extremely annoying. How can I prevent it? I'm running the IDE on Windows 7 Pro. import java.io.*; public class Assignment10 { public static void main(String[] args){ String file = "data.txt"; String[] lines = null; int linesCount = 0; try{ lines = FileHelper.readLines(file); } catch(IOException e){ System.out.println("File reading error: "+e); } for(int i = 0; i < linesCount; i++){ System.out.println("Line " + i + ": " + lines[i]); } } }

What's New in the Adobe Photoshop CS5?

If you're having trouble finding long-lost photos on your digital camera, check the settings on your computer: A pop-up camera icon can mean the file was damaged when the photo was transferred from your camera to your computer, so you have to save the original image file. To be safe, always try to copy the photo from your camera to your computer before deleting it from your camera. Transferring photos to a computer usually doesn't damage the image files, but photos scanned from a digital camera could have become corrupted if the camera developer writes over the file. To save photos damaged by the camera card, insert the card into the computer, right-click the icon for the camera, and choose Save and Close. Choose Save As from the drop-down menu to save the file in your computer. Once you do so, you'll also want to back up the new file to an external storage device, such as a memory stick, so that you have a copy available if the original file is damaged.

Q: How to edit the serialization of a type that is extended from an interface with auto-properties? If I have a class that is extended from an interface with auto-properties (for example: String or int) I'm not able to change the serialization format. It generates the following error: Error 1 The best overloaded method match for 'System.Runtime.Serialization.IXmlSerializable.GetSchema(System.Xml.Serialization.XmlSchemaType)' has some invalid arguments I would like to know what should I do to be able to serialize and deserialize it and its children without triggering the above error. This is a simplified example of the problem: public interface IHasAutoProperties { string Prop1 { get; set; } string Prop2 { get; set; } } [Serializable] public class MyClass : IHasAutoProperties { //not serializable because Prop1 and Prop2 are auto properties public int Prop3 { get; set; } public string Prop4 { get; set; } [XmlIgnore] public int PropsAsObjects { get {
