Lock Folder XP is a new security tool that allows you to lock files, folders and drives using your personal password. The program uses advanced encryption. AES 128-bit (256-bit) encryption is used to protect your personal files, folders, directories and drives. The following encryption algorithms are supported: AES, BlowFish, Twofish, Rijndael and TripleDES. Also, Lock Folder XP has a new protection mechanism that determines the type of folder you have entered and, depending on this, makes it available to the user or inaccessible to him. The program has the ability to set the access mode to the selected folder or drive.
